

IUEU - La Trobe

See more documents

Innovative Universities European Union (IUEU) Centre, La Trobe University, Australia

The authors of the papers are members of the research team of La Trobe University for the Politics and International Relations Program on Democratisation and Nationalism in Central and Eastern Europe supported by the Institute of European Democrats (IED) of Brussels. The project aimed to explore different notions of European identity and belonging. The papers discuss the ways in which Polish and Slovaks MEPs, reaffirm their own national identity while simultaneously promoting the need for European identity to be constructed in relation to Poland, Slovakia and other countries of Central and Eastern Europe.

Where does Poland fit in Europe? How political minority influences Polish MEPs perceptions of Poles place in Europe
Gosia Klatt, Stefan Auer, Matt Killingsworth

Europeanisation, MEPs and the case of the Hungarian Minority in Slovakia
Tony Philips and Stefan Auer
